RE: Overview of the Patient Safety Movement Foundation

3 emails

Consuelo Tolentino < consuelo.tolentino@psmf.org >

Wed, 03 Dec 2025 4:07:33 PM -0700

To "Alec Kleinman"<alec@kleinmanventures.com>

Thank you, Alec!

I spoke with Sanaz and shared updates from our conversation today. We revisited the idea of government contacts, and she strongly agreed that the PSMF mission is bipartisan, given that patient safety lowers costs, improves outcomes, and benefits both the public and private sectors. With that in mind, is it possible to also explore potential connections with elected officials or campaign figures who may have a foundation or relevant family interest in patient safety? This could be a valuable avenue to consider.

Just a thought—looking forward to hearing your perspective.

All the best,
Consuelo Tolentino
Patient Safety Program Lead
Patient Safety Movement Foundation
(949) 230-7588
consuelo.tolentino@psmf.org

PATIENT SAFETY MOVEMENT

First, Do No Harm. ZERO by 2030

From: Alec Kleinman <alec@kleinmanventures.com>
Sent: Wednesday, December 3, 2025 12:12 PM
To: Consuelo Tolentino <consuelo.tolentino@psmf.org>
Subject: Re: Overview of the Patient Safety Movement Foundation

Wonderful!

Thank you for the additional information.

I'll send you the next report later this week or early next week!

Best,
Alec

---- On Wed, 03 Dec 2025 12:23:44 -0700 Consuelo Tolentino <consuelo.tolentino@psmf.org> wrote ---

Hello Alec,

Thank you for your call today. It was very helpful in understanding the experience with matching. Below, I am sharing key points about the PSMF that may offer useful context as you explore potential funding opportunities aligned with our organizational goals and strategies to advance a world with ZERO preventable patient harm.

Thank you again for your time and support.

Our Purpose & Mission
PSMF is dedicated to eliminating preventable patient harm by transforming how healthcare systems operate around safety. Our work focuses on building safer, more reliable care through practical solutions, transparency, aligned incentives, and global collaboration.

How We Drive Change

1. Actionable Evidence-Based Practices (AEBPs)
   We create and disseminate step-by-step, evidence-based blueprints that address the leading causes of preventable harm—such as hospital-acquired infections, medication errors, and communication failures. These tools are designed for frontline staff, executives, unit managers, and patients and families, ensuring system-wide applicability.
2. Data Transparency
   We champion open, accurate reporting of harm events so institutions can identify risks, learn from failures, and measure meaningful improvement. Transparency is essential to drive accountability and accelerate change.
3. Aligned Incentives
   We advocate for healthcare systems that reward quality and safe care—not volume—to shift the global landscape toward outcomes that matter most to patients.
4. Global Stakeholder Collaboration
   PSMF brings together hospitals, clinicians, patient advocates, technology companies, and policymakers to build a unified, worldwide movement committed to patient safety and systemic improvement.

Key Programs Advancing Our Mission
1. Project ZERO — Global Implementation Initiative

Our flagship initiative partners with hospitals worldwide to implement our evidence-based practices with the ultimate goal of reaching ZERO preventable patient harm.

- Provides not only safety blueprints but implementation-science guidance to support real adoption in diverse healthcare environments.
- Advances holistic culture change, ensuring that safety becomes a core design principle in healthcare delivery.
- Engages a growing network of global partner hospitals, demonstrating the real-world impact and scalability of PSMF's model.

2. PSMF Fellowship Program — Developing Future Patient Safety Leaders
A year-long, tuition-free program equipping healthcare professionals across disciplines to lead safety transformation worldwide.

- Fellows receive education in core patient safety and quality concepts, supported by expert mentorship.
- Builds workforce capacity globally, with strong participation from low- and middle-income countries.
- Creates a sustainable, global network of trained leaders committed to advancing safer care in their own health systems.

Why These Programs Matter Together
All programs are interdependent components of a single strategy—combining proven safety solutions, global adoption frameworks, and leadership training to strengthen healthcare systems and reduce preventable harm.

All the best,
Consuelo Tolentino
Patient Safety Program Lead
Patient Safety Movement Foundation
(949) 230-7588
consuelo.tolentino@psmf.org

PATIENT SAFETY MOVEMENT
First, Do No Harm. ZERO by 2030

Alec Kleinman < alec@kleinmanventures.com >

Wed, 03 Dec 2025 1:11:36 PM -0700

To "Consuelo Tolentino"<consuelo.tolentino@psmf.org>

Wonderful!

Thank you for the additional information.

I'll send you the next report later this week or early next week!

Best,
Alec

---- On Wed, 03 Dec 2025 12:23:44 -0700 Consuelo Tolentino <consuelo.tolentino@psmf.org> wrote ---

Hello Alec,

Thank you for your call today. It was very helpful in understanding the experience with matching. Below, I am sharing key points about the PSMF that may offer useful context as you explore potential funding opportunities aligned with our organizational goals and strategies to advance a world with ZERO preventable patient harm.

Thank you again for your time and support.

Our Purpose & Mission
PSMF is dedicated to eliminating preventable patient harm by transforming how healthcare systems operate around safety. Our work focuses on building safer, more reliable care through practical solutions, transparency, aligned incentives, and global collaboration.

How We Drive Change

1. Actionable Evidence-Based Practices (AEBPs)
   We create and disseminate step-by-step, evidence-based blueprints that address the leading causes of preventable harm—such as hospital-acquired infections, medication errors, and communication failures. These tools are designed for frontline staff, executives, unit managers, and patients and families, ensuring system-wide applicability.
2. Data Transparency
   We champion open, accurate reporting of harm events so institutions can identify risks, learn from failures, and measure meaningful improvement. Transparency is essential to drive accountability and accelerate change.
3. Aligned Incentives
   We advocate for healthcare systems that reward quality and safe care—not volume—to shift the global landscape toward outcomes that matter most to patients.
4. Global Stakeholder Collaboration
   PSMF brings together hospitals, clinicians, patient advocates, technology companies, and policymakers to build a unified, worldwide movement committed to patient safety and systemic improvement.

Key Programs Advancing Our Mission
1. Project ZERO — Global Implementation Initiative

Our flagship initiative partners with hospitals worldwide to implement our evidence-based practices with the ultimate goal of reaching ZERO preventable patient harm.

- Provides not only safety blueprints but implementation-science guidance to support real adoption in diverse healthcare environments.
- Advances holistic culture change, ensuring that safety becomes a core design principle in healthcare delivery.
- Engages a growing network of global partner hospitals, demonstrating the real-world impact and scalability of PSMF's model.

2. PSMF Fellowship Program — Developing Future Patient Safety Leaders
A year-long, tuition-free program equipping healthcare professionals across disciplines to lead safety transformation worldwide.

- Fellows receive education in core patient safety and quality concepts, supported by expert mentorship.
- Builds workforce capacity globally, with strong participation from low- and middle-income countries.
- Creates a sustainable, global network of trained leaders committed to advancing safer care in their own health systems.

Why These Programs Matter Together
All programs are interdependent components of a single strategy—combining proven safety solutions, global adoption frameworks, and leadership training to strengthen healthcare systems and reduce preventable harm.

All the best,
Consuelo Tolentino
Patient Safety Program Lead
Patient Safety Movement Foundation
(949) 230-7588
consuelo.tolentino@psmf.org

PATIENT SAFETY MOVEMENT
First, Do No Harm. ZERO by 2030

Consuelo Tolentino < consuelo.tolentino@psmf.org >
Wed, 03 Dec 2025 12:23:53 PM -0700

To "Alec Kleinman"<alec@kleinmanventures.com>

Hello Alec,

Thank you for your call today. It was very helpful in understanding the experience with matching. Below, I am sharing key points about the PSMF that may offer useful context as you explore potential funding opportunities aligned with our organizational goals and strategies to advance a world with ZERO preventable patient harm.

Thank you again for your time and support.

Our Purpose & Mission
PSMF is dedicated to eliminating preventable patient harm by transforming how healthcare systems operate around safety. Our work focuses on building safer, more reliable care through practical solutions, transparency, aligned incentives, and global collaboration.

How We Drive Change

1. Actionable Evidence-Based Practices (AEBPs)
   We create and disseminate step-by-step, evidence-based blueprints that address the leading causes of preventable harm—such as hospital-acquired infections, medication errors, and communication failures. These tools are designed for frontline staff, executives, unit managers, and patients and families, ensuring system-wide applicability.
2. Data Transparency
   We champion open, accurate reporting of harm events so institutions can identify risks, learn from failures, and measure meaningful improvement. Transparency is essential to drive accountability and accelerate change.
3. Aligned Incentives
   We advocate for healthcare systems that reward quality and safe care—not volume—to shift the global landscape toward outcomes that matter most to patients.
4. Global Stakeholder Collaboration
   PSMF brings together hospitals, clinicians, patient advocates, technology companies, and policymakers to build a unified, worldwide movement committed to patient safety and systemic improvement.

Key Programs Advancing Our Mission
1. Project ZERO — Global Implementation Initiative
Our flagship initiative partners with hospitals worldwide to implement our evidence-based practices with the ultimate goal of reaching ZERO preventable patient harm.

- Provides not only safety blueprints but implementation-science guidance to support real adoption in diverse healthcare environments.
- Advances holistic culture change, ensuring that safety becomes a core design principle in healthcare delivery.
- Engages a growing network of global partner hospitals, demonstrating the real-world impact and scalability of PSMF's model.

2. PSMF Fellowship Program — Developing Future Patient Safety Leaders
A year-long, tuition-free program equipping healthcare professionals across disciplines to lead safety transformation worldwide.

- Fellows receive education in core patient safety and quality concepts, supported by expert mentorship.
- Builds workforce capacity globally, with strong participation from low- and middle-income countries.
- Creates a sustainable, global network of trained leaders committed to advancing safer care in their own health systems.

Why These Programs Matter Together
All programs are interdependent components of a single strategy—combining proven safety solutions, global adoption frameworks, and leadership training to strengthen healthcare systems and reduce preventable harm.

All the best,
Consuelo Tolentino
Patient Safety Program Lead
Patient Safety Movement Foundation
(949) 230-7588
consuelo.tolentino@psmf.org